Raza I Mustafa Chaudhary PMI-PMP®

Executive Success Coach | CEO & Founder IPM Pakistan

Raza I Mustafa Chaudhary (Raza Chaudhary/Rimchaudhary) is a notable figure among Pakistan's 224 million citizens who have struggled and succeeded in their pursuit of success, happiness, and contentment. His impressive journey began as a professional engineer with Saudi Aramco, the world's leading oil-producing company. There, he played pivotal roles in various capacities and contributed to a multi-billion-dollar project team responsible for designing, purchasing, constructing, and commissioning the world's largest Light Arabian Crude Oil Producing Facility in Khurais, Saudi Arabia.

With over a decade of experience, Raza then joined Honeywell International, a Fortune 100 company, where he led and executed multimillion-dollar strategic projects across Europe, the Middle East, Asia, and Pakistan.

Raza I Mustafa Chaudhary's extensive expertise is demonstrated by his numerous international certifications, including Project Management Professional (PMP®), Risk Management Professional (RMP®), Certified Scrum Master (CSM), Six Sigma Green Belt (SSGB), and PMI-Agile Certified Professional (PMI-ACP). These credentials highlight his dedication and proficiency in his field.

Raza was ready for his next challenge. Through significant self-discovery, he realized his true calling was in developing people and organizations. His unyielding passion for adding value to others' lives led him to become a corporate trainer, executive success coach, public speaker, and entrepreneur. He founded IPM Pakistan to inspire millions to live creative lives.

Forming IPM Pakistan was a perfect fit for Raza. As he says,

"It doesn't seem like work when you do what you were made to do."

Simplifying 'COACHING'

“Coaching”

Is not Telling People what you think they should do.

“Coaching”

Is about Helping someone gain their own insights in a situation.

Coaching is a Conversation IMPACT. An Effective coaching conversation influences someone's understandings, learning, behavior and progress.

A Typical Case Study...

Meet Engr. Awais Siddiqui

A. Background

- Overseas Employed Engineer from Pakistan working in UAE
- Position as 'Team Lead' with a Chinese EPC company
- Applying for better position for his career growth

B. Challenges

- Appearing for the interviews
- But not converting Interviews into offers, Awais was missing it since, every employer in the middle east prefers to hire qualified young Project leader (meaning they needed a PMP certified professional)

C. Solutions

- He contacted IPM Pakistan for PMP education
- Then we discussed his learning and Exam prep strategy
- He Could never start his PMP exam preparation due to his busy schedule
- We reviewed his feasibility and customized schedule to study with consistency
- He was proactive, took constructive steps towards our joint plan
- He completed his course as per plan
- Completed his MOC tests on time, filled PMI application
- Scheduled exam date and appeared with great confidence to become champion
- Shown great nerve during exam and PASSED PMP exam in his 1st attempt on 6OCT2023

Obtained PMI-PMP® Certification in <2 months and stood out from the crowd with honour

D. Impact

In JAN 2024 he was respectfully hired by Worley Oman as "Site Manager" for Engineering & Construction"

CERT

Majority

Emerging Project Managers often find themselves stuck in various phases of their PMP® Certification Journey

Phase 1

Pre Prep Thought Process

- PMBOOK is Bulky having 700+ Pages.
- AGILE Guide is having 167 pages.
- AGILE knowledge is totally new for Predictive Life Cycle practitioners.
- I am incompetent to PASS PMP.
- Let us PARK it for the cool time.
- Carry on with existing Employer or position in COMFORT Zone.
- Growth are just bookish philosophies, realities are much bitter.

Phase 2

Started Exam Prep Journey

- Busy daily schedule
- How to remain consistent?
- Low Energy level to kick start
- It is taking more time than estimated
- PMBOK concepts are different than real project life cycle
- Need someone to Unleash potential and guide for the latest Exam strategy
- Peers are busy in their own business, No one want to put his nose in this RISKY Business due to lack of his/her competency!

Phase 3

Pre Exam Schedule

- Am I Prepared for the exam?
- Have I covered the ECO (exam content outline) thoroughly?
- I am not sure which time slot will be good for the Exam to book.
- PMP exam is expensive and if I "FAIL" then what is next?
- I have paid one time FEE to the mentor and how will he assist me to bounce back for the second try if I "FAIL"?
- It will be a nightmare to re-try for the 2nd attempt

A26: If you are currently preparing for the exam and I just helped you for overall induction then you will not be obliged to pay my service fee

Q27: If I appear in PMI exam and FAIL to PASS it, will you stick with me till I get my Certification?

A27: Yes I'll stick with you till you become a certified Project Manager by PMI

Q28: I have appeared for more than 1 time in the exam and left with last chance to appear in a year, what will you advice in this case?

A28: We will hold 1:1 induction call to deeply analyze your case prior to move forward with best strategy to PMP pass

Q29: what if I have tried multiple time to obtain PMI PMP certificate but failed?

A29: There is nothing impossible and once you have a coach to empower you, then it becomes possible.

Red Flags

Avoid People Who Advertise this!

- ▶ Inadequate Experience: An inexperienced trainer may not have the practical knowledge and realworld experience to provide valuable insights and guidance
- ▶ Lack of Certification: If the trainer or coach does not hold a valid PMP certification themselves from PMI, it's a red flag as they may not have the necessary expertise or credibility
- ▶ High Fees: Exorbitant fees that do not align with industry standards can be a warning sign of opportunistic trainers or coaches
- ▶ Lack of Customization: A one-size-fits-all approach that does not cater to your specific needs and goals can be unhelpful
- ▶ Ethical Concerns: Unethical behavior, such as promoting exam cheating or dishonest practices, is a major reason to steer clear of a PMP trainer or coach (Helping aspirants to obtain PMP certificate without apperaing in real exam)
